Astro shade

Ogeborg Design Collection

Our handtufted Tencel carpets Astro shade are traditionally made using vegetable fibre from cultivated eucalyptus. The manufacturing of this complex technique is only possible possible by the hands of artisans, who have been working with us for many years. Characterized by its exclusive look, these traditionally handtufted rugs are versatile and can be produced in different variations of colour transitions giving them a unique look.

The design of Astro shade, Rusty gold was inspired by the sea, the sky and the beach giving the impression of an endless horizon.

Combi Looms

– Ogeborg Design Collection

Our jacquard looms enable the production of a wide range of patterns that are grouped in seven different sets. This gives liberty to combine patterns, colors and materials, to suit each client's taste. Many of these patterns were first introduced in the beginning of the 20th century and were used for the production of tailored luxury suits and tweeds. Along with the traditional appeal, these patterns are versatile and bring a modern touch to any environment.

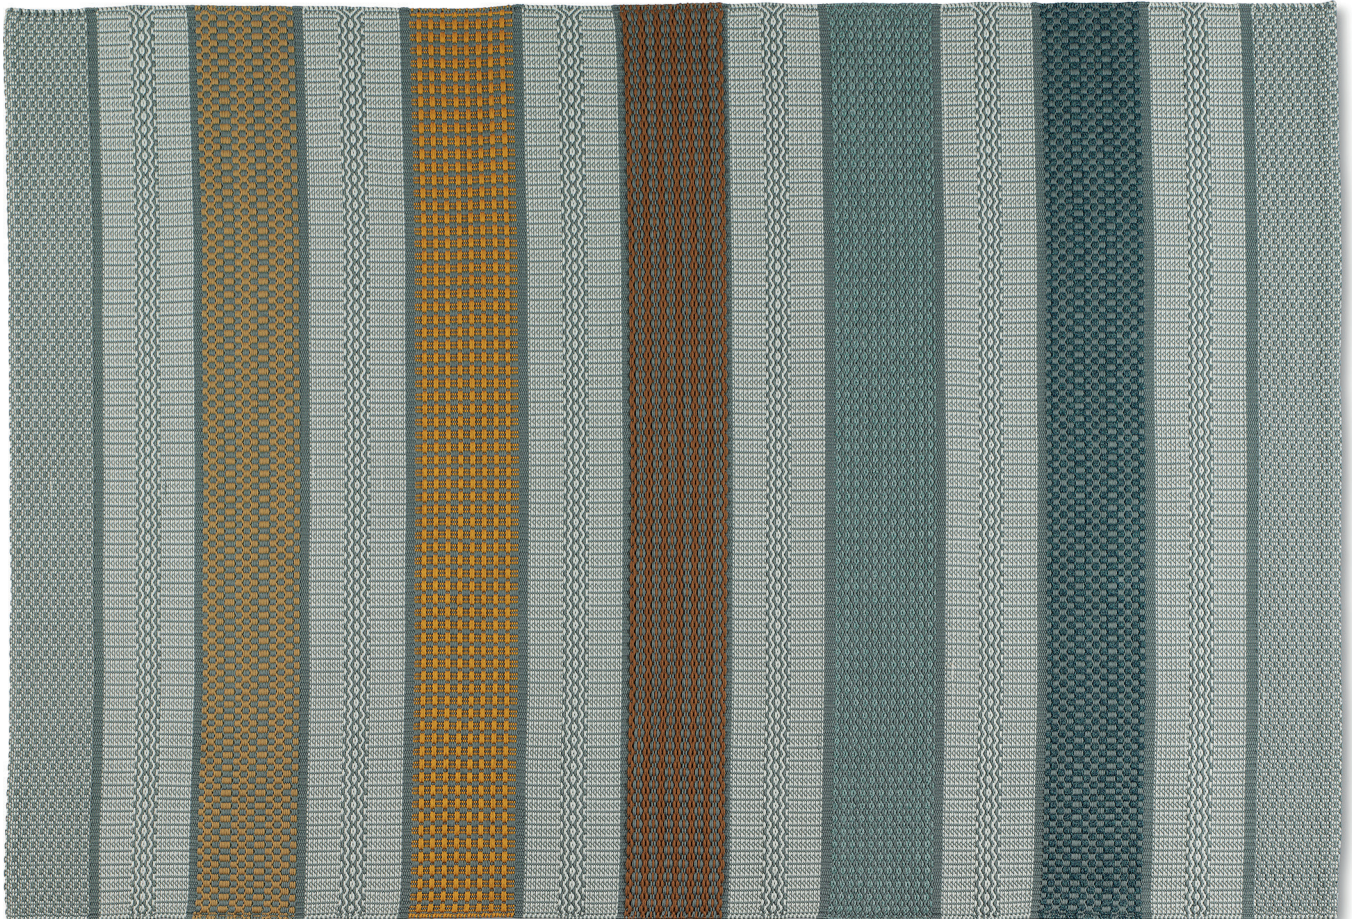

Variant collection is a unique and skillful design where the pattern changes from one side to another in both directions in combination with a smooth colour variation. The sharp coloured ending adds attitude to the traditional pattern.

Terrass – Ogeborg Design Collection

Our outdoor rugs are suitable for both interior and exterior environments. They combine an incredibly high resistance to sunlight and wear, with beauty, design and elegance. Our eclectic portfolio of both modern and traditional designs allow us to present a wide range of alternatives for domestic and contract projects, for in and outdoor spaces. In addition, our in-house design team is always ready and available to create new solutions adapted to each customer's needs and desires.

Terrass Horizon is a new design in our outdoor collection. Different weaving techniques are used to create the beautiful variation of patterns in the carpet.

A Sense of Place

*A collection of leather rugs designed by
Claesson Koivisto Rune
in collaboration with Ogeborg*

In an iconic image, late artist Joseph Beuys is seated in a sofa by his desk, speaking on his phone. The floor of the study is covered by whole leather hides, stitched together. To put leather on the floor seems at first like an odd thing. But when you think of it – it is in many ways the perfect material. Natural and durable, it looks good even after years of fierce use. Furthermore, it is a responsible use of what is in fact a by-product from the meat and dairy industry.

For their architectural project, the inde/jacobs gallery building, in Marfa, Texas, Claesson Koivisto Rune designed a rug. Inspired by heavy duty Texas work and farming gear, durable leather became the obvious choice. The design is now complemented with two more rugs forming a collection named A Sense of Place.

The collection is manufactured by Tärnsjö Tannery and all handmade in vegetable-tanned organic leather. All rugs are numbered edition. Available in various sizes and colours.
